

Kenneth J. Hopkins
Mayor

Cranston City Hall
869 Park Avenue
Cranston, Rhode Island 02910

MAYOR KENNETH J. HOPKINS ANNOUNCES WEBSITE FOR COVID-19 VACCINE PRE-REGISTRATION IN CRANSTON

CRANSTON, RI, February 3rd, 2021 - Mayor Kenneth J. Hopkins has announced the continued rollout of Cranston's COVID-19 vaccination program. Cranston residents 75 years of age and older are eligible to preregister for the COVID-19 vaccine using an online form located at CranstonVaccine.com. The online form will also be located on the City's website. A list will be established for the anticipated vaccines from the State expected in mid-February.

"We are pleased with the response from Cranston residents during the initial rollout of the COVID-19 vaccine in Cranston. The online form will make it easier for our community to sign-up for the vaccine once more are made available to our City from the State," said Mayor Kenneth J. Hopkins.

Cranston residents are asked to fill out the form with their name, address, date of birth, phone number and email address to pre-register. This does not guarantee an appointment. Following pre-registration, qualifying applicants will be contacted by a City representative based on age with the oldest residents continuing to receive priority.

