EAST PROVIDENCE

Fire Chief Griswold Orders Three Oil Companies to Construct Proper Dikes.

SIX TEAMS RIOT ON FIELD

New Yorker's Stolen Automobile Recovered in Woods.—Grass Fire Extiguished

East Providence Office, The Providence Journal, 27 Fifth Street. | Tel. East Prov 2720

Three oil companies have been notified by Fire Chief Arthur A. Griswold of East Providence to construct dikes around tanks not now thus protected and to make repairs to dikes which have been broken or opened and would not hold the contents of gasoline or fuel tanks which the tanks give way.

Recently Chief Griswold found that some of the dikes around tanks on that portion of the Standard Oil Company's plant between Pawtucket avenue and the water front needed fixing, and that other dikes were unsatisfactory. He notified the company to comply with the law, and the work was started.

Last week Chief Griswold discovered that many of the dikes in the vicinity of the refinery east of Pawtucket avenue, particularly those near the Wampanag Trail, were too large, covering too great an area and they did not comply with the law. Other tanks very close to the refinery were not diked at all. The two tanks nearest the open residue tank which burned a fortnight ago, causing a threatening blaze, were not diked.

The tanks were so close to the blazing oil that it was necessary to keep streams of water playing on them to avert melting. The Fire Chief has been making a survey of the plants of the various oil companies, which he completed last week. He notified the Standard Oil Company that all tanks must be diked and that broken dikes must be repaired and put in condition so that in case the tanks gave way the fluid would be held in check by the dikes. He enclosed a copy of the law and stated that the provisions of the law must be met immediately.

He also notified the Atlantic Refining Company at Kettle Point that some of its dikes were unsatisfactory and did not comply with the law, and stated that the law must be observed. A similar situation, he said, was found at the Mexpet Company, and the officials of that company were called upon to comply with the law.

He ordered the tanks diked and broken dikes repaired at once and stated that he was to be informed when the work was completed so that he may make an inspection.

INJURED IN FUN HOUSE

Thomas McGurn, 15, of 330 W[illegible] den street, while enjoying himself in the Fun House at Crescent Park early last evening suffered a laceration of his scalp which required six stitches to close. He was attended by Dr. F. R. Devine, to whose office he was taken by the police. From there he was taken to his home. The physician did not consider the wound a serious one.

DENIES NEEDING LICENSE

Albert Rochon of Pawtucket avenue, who was refused a victualling license for his roadside stand some time ago by the Town Council after a hearing at which neighbors protested, is said to have opened his place and when a policeman asked if he had a victualling license Mr. Rochon replied that he had not and that he did no need one under the laws of the State and the ordinances of the town. The police report that Mr. Rochon claimed that he did not need a license because he was not keeping his place open on Sunday. He is quoted as saying that he is prepared to go to court and prove that he does not need a victualling license to sell drinks and light lunches occasionally.

HAD NO LICENSE FINED

Frederick DeMello, 18, of 33 Sweetbriar avenue, was arraigned in the Seventh district court yesterday on a charge of operating an automobile without a license. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs.

CONFUSION AT BALL PARK

The attempt of six baseball teams to use the ball field at the Watchemoket playground yesterday afternoon caused considerable confusion and it was necessary for the police to order everyone from the field. No previous arrangements had been made for using the diamond, and Special Officer Brown asked the station for help in clearing the field. Patrolman Rich was sent to assist him, but before the job was accomplished Councilman Davol sent word that the Playground Committee had given the "Townies" the privilege of using the field, and the police permitted them to play.

CAUGHT IN SWIMMING

Two young men were caught swimming in Old Central Pond off Newman avenue yesterday afternoon by Special Officer Charles A. Higgins, hired by the Water Supply Board to patrol the Ten Mile River and the pond to prevent swimming. There was a warning sign within a few feet of the place where they were in the water. The officer ordered them into court.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

An automobile owned by a New York man staying at a Providence hotel was stolen Saturday evening and later it was found abandoned in the woods near the cove east of Bullock's Point avenue. Parts of the car had been taken. Special Officer Morrill, on duty at Crescent Park, was notified and he informed police headquarters. It was towed to a garage and was turned over to the owner yesterday.

VALUABLE DOG POISONED

Mrs. E. Perry of 366 Pleasant street complained to the police last evening that her chow dog, valued at $300, was poisoned last week and died yesterday. She made a bitter complaint that on previous occasions she had made reasonable complaints and the police had failed to do anything. She demanded last night that the police find out who killed her valuable dog. She said she had reported it to Dog Officer Charles A. Higgins, but she insisted it was the duty of the police to investigate and prosecute the guilty one.

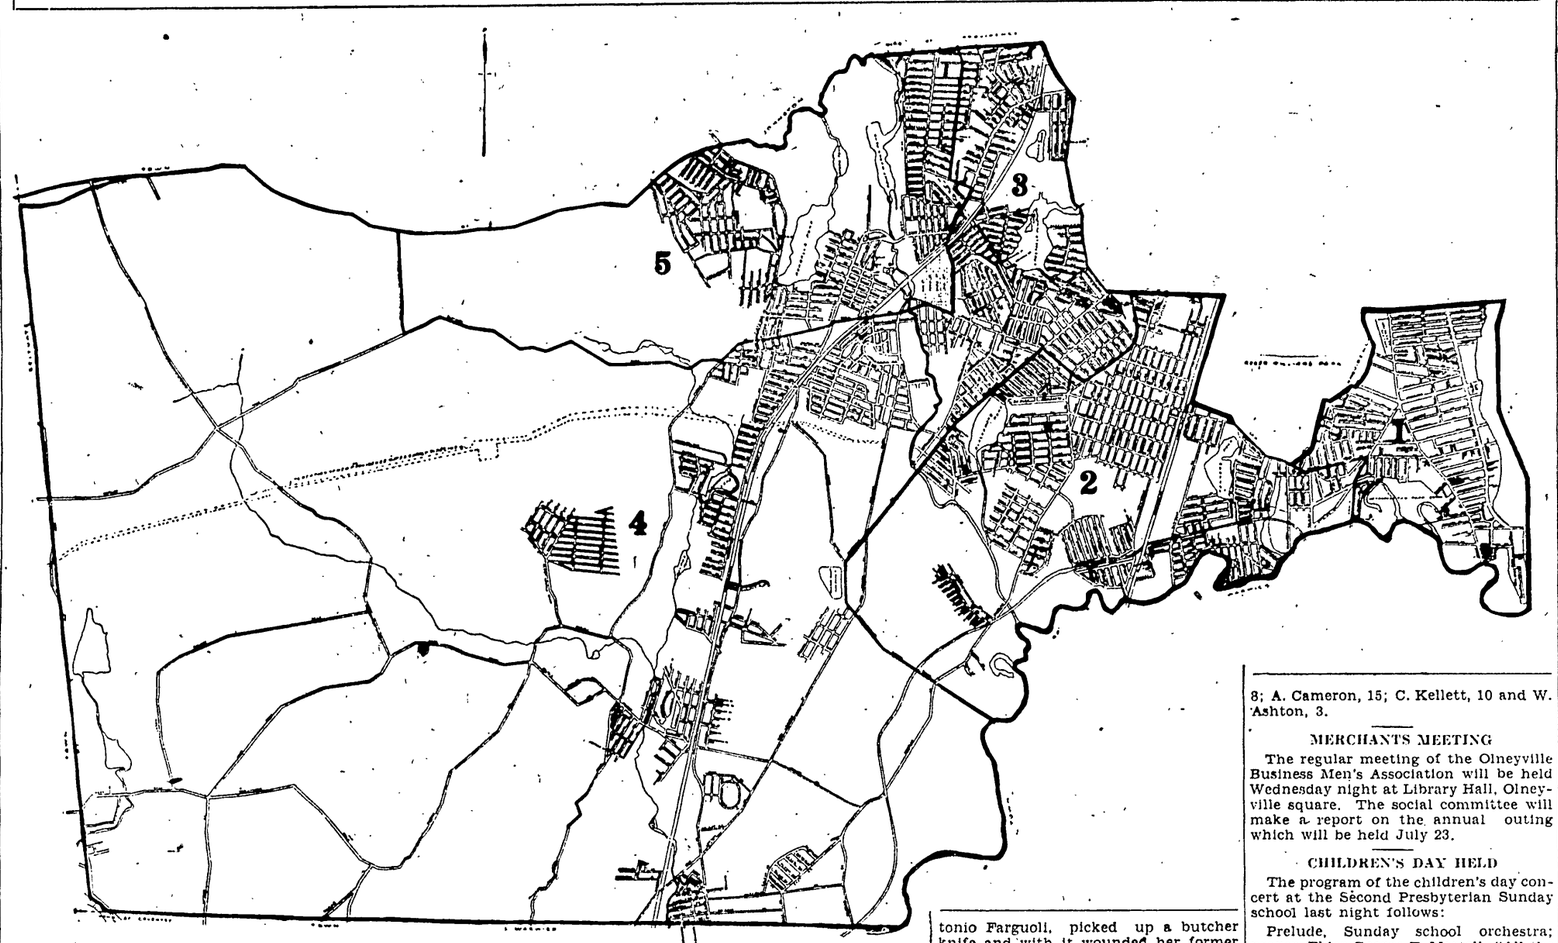
MAP SHOWING NEW WARD LINES IN CITY OF CRANSTON



Act Dividing the City Into Five Wards Becomes Effective July 1, and Changes the Political Divisions of Practically the Entire Municipality. The Numbers Indicate the Location of the Wards, Ward 1 is Edgewood; Ward 2, Auburn; Ward 3, Arlington; Ward 4, Meshanticut and Oaklawn; Ward 5, Silver Lake, Knightsville, Thornton and Laurel Hill.

CRANSTON

Residents at Sea as One More Ward is Added to City and Boundaries Change.

POLITICIANS ARE ACTIVE

Jockey for Leadership in New Fifth.—Italian Vote Likely to Control Section.

Cranston Office, The Providence Journal, 1226 Cranston Street, Cranston. | Tel. West 0126.

Cranston's jump into the 40,000 population class of municipalities, as shown by the Federal census, is not the only evidence of a growing city. July 1, the city, by an act of the General Assembly, will have five wards. For years Cranston, as a four ward municipality was viewed by other communities as a baby sister although in a single ward, the Fourth, the area is almost as large as the entire city of Providence and includes Oaklawn, Meshanticut Park, Knightsville, Thornton and extending to Scituate and following that town line into Pawtuxet Valley and including some of the State institutions. Part of the fourth and a section of the third will become the new fifth ward.

There is wide interest in the new political division because there is a scramble to direct the patronage and be viewed as leaders. Former Chief of Police Cuff, who has been active in city politics as a resident of the Third Ward will live in the new division. John F. Murphy, formerly a member of the Third Ward Republican Committee and Inspector of Buildings, is also in the Fifth. Clarence Ray, a member of the Third ward delegation on the school board, is in the new ward as are Councilmen Parillo of the Fourth and DiPrete of the Third.

Students of political matters in Cranston look for a new lineup, as Italians easily control the situation in Ward 5. The ward lines include such colonies as Laurel Hill, Knightsville and Thornton.

Because of the political differences in the western end of the city the new divisions present an interesting problem. Ward 3 gets part of present Ward 2 in the shakeup and the lines so zigzag that many residents are entirely at sea as to their home location.

By the State reapportionment act which goes into effect July 1, this city gets a fifth member of the General Assembly. When there were four assembly districts and four wards here, it was not difficult to arrange for election returns. When it was decreed that Cranston should have a fifth Representative, it was decided to have an additional ward. The ward lines are to remain identical with the representative lines and the delineation of Ward 5 may perhaps best be explained by the language in the act making the division, which reads:

"The Fifth Representative District shall consist of all that part of said city bounded by a line beginning at a point on the Plainfield road, where the Whittaker Cross Road intersects the boundary line between the town of Johnston and the city of Cranston; thence, running in a general easterly and northeasterly direction along said boundary line between said town of Johnston and said city of Cranston to the Pocasset river; thence, in a general northeasterly direction through the centre of said Pocasset river and the boundary line between the city of Providence and the city of Cranston; thence, in an easterly direction along said boundary line between said city of Providence and said city of Cranston to a point where Laurel Hill avenue intersects and crosses said boundary line; thence, in a southerly direction through the centre of said Laurel Hill avenue to Chestnut Hill avenue; thence, in a southeasterly direction through the centre of said Chestnut Hill avenue to Cranston street; thence, in a southwesterly direction through the centre of said Cranston street to Gansett avenue; thence, in a southerly direction through the centre of said Gansett avenue to Park avenue; thence, in a northwesterly and westerly direction through the centre of said Park avenue, crossing Cranston street to Phenix avenue; thence, in a southwesterly direction through the centre of said Phenix avenue to a point of intersection of said Phenix avenue with the Scituate road opposite Wayland avenue; thence, in a westerly direction through the centre of said Scituate road to a point of intersection of said Scituate road with the Whittaker Cross rond; thence, in a northerly direction through the centre of said Whittaker Cross road to the point of beginning."

ORDERED INTO COURT

Marie Caparrelli, 33 Princess avenue, Cranston, visited police headquarters yesterday afternoon and said while her car was parked in front of the home of her mother, at 31 Oak street, Angelo Luchette of 384 Atwells avenue attempted to force her husband from the machine. When he failed, she said, Luchetti took from a pocket of her car an automatic revolver. Before she concluded her report and satisfied the police why she should be carrying a gun, Luchetti put in an appearance. He had the revolver and a very different sort of a story. His version is that he saw Caparrelli and decided to discuss with him a bad check incident. Caparrelli drew the gun, Luchetti said.

Luchetti wanted Caparrelli charged with carrying a concealed weapon and the woman wanted Luchetti arrested for assault on her husband. Chief of Police Miller ordered all three into court this morning to report their stories.

YOUTH HURT IN CRASH

Joseph Gavigan, 17, of 64 Sterling avenue, Providence, was taken to Rhode Island Hospital late last night after his head had crashed against the windshield of an automobile which hit a pole on Sranston street, at the corner of Field street, in Cranston.

The driver of the car, Austin Sullivan, 18, of 498 Plainfield street, and Beatrice Ahearn, 18, of 181 Union avenue, escaped uninjured, but Zela and Elsie Conca, 18 and 19, respectively, of 195 Union avenue, were bruised and cut.

The auto turned into Field street, and the operator apparently tried to get back to Cranston street, mounted the sidewalk and crashed into the pole. The windshield did not break, but the force of the blow on Gavigan's head forced it open and rendered him unconscious. At the hospital it was said that his condition is not serious.

JOHNSTON.

FIRE IN DWELLING

Mrs. Sterry K. Luther, wife of the Town Clerk, notified the Thornton Fire Company at 3:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon that a house at 53 Atwood avenue, Thornton, was burning. Chief Arthur Dwyer and his men responded, and were later joined by Chief Irving S. Black and his crew of Johnston Hose Company No. 3. The damage was estimated at $2000.

The fire partly destroyed the bungalow at that number, owned by Vincent Piancente, who resides there with his family. Mrs. Piancente, after the fire started, told a man named Paolo Stabile, who was working in a lot nearby, that an insurance policy was in the kitchen under a pail. He rushed into the house and rescued the paper.

When the Thornton Company arrived, the basement and the kitchen of the first floor were ablaze and the flames were lapping up the side of the house at the rear. Chief Dwyer laid 1400 feet of hose and assisted the Johnston company in laying a line.

The fire worked its way through the roof at the back of the building and the front end of the house was damaged by smoke and water.

Some of the crew of the fire company were away in Fall River, Mass., playing football, and Chief Dwyer sought substitutes, among them Albert Pentetuolo, who acted as driver of the pumper.

NORTH PROVIDENCE

Ground for New St. Anthony's Church is Broken with Impressive Exercises.

CONCERT IS GIVEN BY BAND

Mgr. Bove Blesses Project; Asks Parishioners Give Every Aid to Make It Success.

North Providence Office, The Providence Journal | Tels. Centrecale 299 West 2226-W.

Ground for the new St. Anthony's Church in the Woodward road section was broken yesterday afternoon with impressive ceremonies. Practically every resident of that section of the town was present. Rt. Rev. Mgr. Bove of St. Ann's Church officiated at the services of blessing the ground and turning the first spadeful of earth.

Although scheduled for 3 o'clock, the ceremonies did not start until about 4:30. A band was present and gave a concert. Then there was a parade around the district of the members of the committee headed by the band to serenade persons who were unable to attend the ceremony.

Mgr. Bove, after reading the scripture and blessing the ground, spoke at some length to the members of the new parish. He explained to them the benefits they were to derive from having a church in their centre, not only to themselves but to their property. He said that as one of the essential features of the church was one of education it would not be long before parents would have the advantage of a parochial school in the district.

He encouraged the supporters of the church to work, not only for the church but for the school. He congratulated members of the committee and others who have volunteered their services in digging the cellar for the new church. He urged them to complete this part of the project as soon as possible that work on the main part of the church may be started sooner. In the course of his talk he spoke of the benefits city water would give the residents and urged them to not relinquish their efforts to see their hopes in this respect realized.

At the conclusion of the services the band gave a concert, during which time a collection for the new church was made. Work will be started today on the excavation of the cellar.

ENDS HIS LIFE

Albert Bentley, 27, of 3 St. Mary's road, Greystone, died at the Rhode Isand Hospital at 3:40 yesterday afternoon as the result of a wound in the head, self-inflicted, shortly before noon at the home of Eric Bentley, his brother, with whom he lived. His act was due to despondency caused by ill health, it is said.

Bentley used a .22 calibre rifle which he smuggled into the house Saturday morning unbeknown to his relatives. He was found by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen Bentley, on the bed. She did not hear the shot and does not know when he shot himself. He was out earlier in the morning, returning to his room about 10 o'clock.

Patrolman Louis Sharp of the Greystone section was summoned. At the same time Dr. John A. Brothers of Providence was called. Both men worked over Bentley until the arrival of an ambulance. Deputy Chief Labossonniere and Patrolman George P. Willis, Jr., were notified and assisted in the investigation. The young man was a member of the Greystone Victory band and played with the organization Saturday afternoon and evening at the carnival in Rhodes Field. He was a member of the Greystone Odd Fellows and a former member of the soccer team, being one of its fastest players. He was employed in the warp dressing room at the Greystone mills.
